General disclaimer on the Synthesised text document

This document presents the synthesised text for the application of the Convention between the Republic of Austria and the United Arab Republic (now the Arab Republic of Egypt) for the avoidance of double taxation and the prevention of fiscal evasion with respect to taxes on income and on capital signed on 16 October 1962 (the “Convention”), as modified by the Multilateral Convention to Implement Tax Treaty Related Measures to Prevent Base Erosion and Profit Shifting signed by the Republic of Austria and by the Arab Republic of Egypt on 7 June 2017 (the “MLI”).

The document was prepared on the basis of the MLI position of the Republic of Austria submitted to the Depositary upon ratification on 22 September 2017, as updated upon notification of extension of the list of agreements on 30 August 2023, and the Arab Republic of Egypt submitted to the Depositary upon ratification on 30 September 2020. These MLI positions are subject to modifications as provided in the MLI. Modifications made to MLI positions could modify the effects of the MLI on this Convention.

The authentic legal texts of the Convention and the MLI take precedence and remain the legal texts applicable.

The provisions of the MLI that are applicable with respect to the provisions of the Convention are included in boxes throughout the text of this document in the context of the relevant provisions of the Convention. The boxes containing the provisions of the MLI have generally been inserted in accordance with the ordering of the provisions of the OECD Model Tax Convention.

Changes to the text of the provisions of the MLI have been made to conform the terminology used in the MLI to the terminology used in the Convention (such as “Covered Tax Agreement” and “Convention”, “Contracting Jurisdictions” and “Contracting States”), to ease the comprehension of the provisions of the MLI. The changes in terminology are intended to increase the readability of the document and are not intended to change the substance of the provisions of the MLI. Similarly, changes have been made to parts of provisions of the MLI that describe existing provisions of the Convention: descriptive language has been replaced by legal references of the existing provisions to ease the readability.

In all cases, references made to the provisions of the Convention or to the Convention must be understood as referring to the Convention as modified by the provisions of the MLI, provided such provisions of the MLI have taken effect.

other State (whether through a permanent establishment or otherwise), shall not of itself constitute either company a permanent establishment of the other.

ARTICLE V

- (1) The industrial or commercial profits of an enterprise of one of the Contracting States (including gains derived from the sale of the enterprise or of a part of the enterprise or of an asset owned by the enterprise) shall not be subject to tax in the other Contracting State unless the enterprise carries on a trade or business in that other State through a permanent establishment situated therein. If it carries on a trade or business in that other State as aforesaid, tax may be imposed on those profits in the other State but only on so much of them as is attributable to that permanent establishment.
- (2) The share of the industrial or commercial profits of a partnership accruing to a partner therein who is a resident of one of the Contracting States shall likewise not be subject to tax in the other Contracting State unless the undertaking carries on a trade or business in that other State through a permanent establishment situated therein. If it carries on a trade or business in that other State through a permanent establishment situated therein tax may be imposed in the other State on the share of the profits accruing to that partner, but only on so much as represents his share of the profits attributable to the permanent establishment. The same provisions shall apply to the shares of the profits of a "stiller Gesellschafter" (silent partner) of a "stille Gesellschaft" (silent partnership) of the Austrian law.
- (3) Where an enterprise of one of the Contracting States carries on a trade or business in the other Contracting State through a permanent establishment situated therein, there shall be attributed to that permanent establishment the industrial or commercial profits which it might be expected to derive in that other State if it were an independent enterprise engaged in the same or similar activities under the same or similar conditions and dealing at arm's length with the enterprise of which it is a permanent establishment. Such industrial or commercial profits will in principle be determined on the basis of the separate accounts pertaining to such establishment. In the determination of the net industrial or commercial profits of the permanent establishment there shall be allowed as deduction all expenses which are reasonably allocable to the permanent establishment, including executive and general administrative expenses so allocable.
- (4) The taxation authorities of the taxing State may, when necessary, in execution of paragraph 3 of this Article, rectify the accounts for taxation purposes, notably to correct errors and omissions or to re-establish the prices or remunerations entered in the books at the value which would prevail between independent persons dealing at arm's length.
- (5) If a permanent establishment does not produce accounts showing its own operations, or the accounts produced do not correspond to the normal usages of trade in the State where the establishment is situated, or the rectifications provided for in paragraph 4 of this Article cannot be effected, the taxation authorities of the taxing State may determine the net industrial or commercial profits by applying such methods to the operations of the establishment as may be fair and reasonable in the execution of paragraph 3 of this Article.
- (6) To facilitate the determination of industrial or commercial profits attributable to the permanent establishment, the competent authorities of the Contracting States may consult together with a view to the adoption of uniform rules of attribution of such profits according to the laws of the Contracting States.
- (7) Where a company which is a resident of Austria and whose activities do not lie solely or mainly in the United Arab Republic has a permanent establishment in the United Arab Republic, any profits attributable under paragraph 3 to that permanent establishment may be subject to the United Arab Republic tax on income from movable capital, the defense tax and the supplementary taxes, inasmuch as such profits are according to the following provisions considered to have been distributed:

The total net profits of such a permanent establishment which would be liable to the United Arab Republic tax on commercial and industrial profits without applying the provisions of Article 36 of Law 14 of 1939 shall be considered to have been distributed in the United Arab Republic within 60 days from the closing of the financial year. 10 per cent of that net profit may, however, be set aside to form a special reserve. Such reserve has to be entered in the local balance sheet submitted annually to the United Arab Republic taxation authorities. Any amount set aside to such reserve shall only be subject to the tax on commercial and industrial profits in the United Arab Republic. All sums deducted from the aforesaid reserve for purposes other than the redemption of losses incurred in the trade or business carried on by that permanent establishment situated in the United Arab Republic shall be deemed to have been distributed in the United Arab Republic and shall be taxed accordingly.

- (8) The provisions of paragraph 7 cease to be effective whenever in the United Arab Republic profits which are distributed out of a company's profits of the same taxable year (not distributed out of accumulated reserves or other assets) cease to be deductible from the amount of the company's taxable income or profits subject to the tax on commercial and industrial profits.
- (9) A company whose activities in the meaning of paragraph 7 do not lie mainly in the United Arab Republic means any company whose activities are carried out less than 90 per cent in the United Arab Republic through a permanent establishment situated therein.
- (10) Paragraphs 7 and 8 also apply to profits accruing to a sleeping partner of a partnership corresponding to a partnership with limited liability of the United Arab Republic law.
- (11) Paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 shall not be construed as preventing one of the Contracting States from imposing, pursuant to this Convention, a tax on income (e.g., dividends, interest, income from immovable property or royalties) derived from sources within its territory by a resident of the other State if such income is not attributable to a permanent establishment in the first-mentioned State. Such income, if attributable to a permanent establishment, shall be taxed separately or together with the industrial or commercial profits of the permanent establishment in accordance with the laws of the Contracting States.

ARTICLE VI

- (1) Where
 - (a) an enterprise of one of the Contracting States participates directly or indirectly in the management, control or capital of an enterprise of the other State, or
 - (b) the same persons participate directly or indirectly in the management, control or capital of an enterprise of one of the Contracting States and an enterprise of the other State, and in either case conditions are made or imposed between the two enterprises, in their commercial or financial relations, which differ from those which would be made between independent enterprises, then any profits which would, except for those conditions, have accrued to one of the enterprises but by reason of those conditions have not so accrued, may be included in the profits of that enterprise and taxed accordingly.

Where the recipient of the dividends actually is an individual who is not liable to the general income tax including the defence tax in the United Arab Republic or where he is actually a company, the United Arab Republic shall refund any general income tax including the defence tax attributable to such dividends on a claim being made. Where the recipient of the dividends is an individual liable to the general income tax including the defence tax in the United Arab Republic at a rate less than 15 per cent, the United Arab Republic shall refund any amount on general income tax including the defence tax which has been deducted from such dividends in excess of the statutory rate on a claim being made.
